ABOUT US

ABOUT LTYF

Listen To Your Freedom is a unique program that will take you through the journey of discovering your top talent, your most important gift that you are here to share with the world. Then it will show you how to turn that passion, or interest, or skill, into an automated, online business that earns you money – even while you sleep, play, heal yourself, or travel!

Jini Patel Thompson is the creator and founder of Listen To Your Freedom. She started her first business at the age of nine and her first incorporated company at the age of nineteen. Jini has since created her own line of health supplements and is the author of 23 books, CDs and DVDs. Her articles have been published in magazines and journals throughout the USA, Australia and the UK. She has also appeared on TV and radio shows in the USA and UK.

Ian Thompson is a former advertising and marketing executive from the UK and Hong Kong. He has worked with clients like British Airways, Dr. Scholl's and Hong Kong Telecom. He set up his own advertising firm in 1995 in Vancouver until he decided to leave his downtown office and join his wife Jini in her health business – when her readers demanded an online health store in 2002. Ian provides some of the advanced training and video trainings in Listen To Your Freedom, along with specialized consulting services.
